

Summary, November 2015

Special Food retail.....1, 2, 3

- U.S. Whole Foods Market’s pins growth on natural products. By Rob Twyman, President of Whole Foods Market for the North California region
- Food at a glance. Connecting farmers direct to consumers...Instacart makes your personal shopping... When stores and restaurants mix...

International.....4

- Home equipment retail pins growth on services
- Strategy. Are online investments too high?

Europe.....5, 6, 7

- U.K. retailers cancel free “click & collect” services
- Is toy retail sector a borderless market?
- Decathlon. The end of traditional checkout?
- “In an increasingly complex retail sector, it’s important to remain focus” By Andrew Vaughan, CEO of Redevco
- In short: Gloucester Quays hosts 5 million visitors a year. Auchan tests convenience in Russia...Kingfisher puts spotlight on Screwfix...Apple will polish London’s flagship..

Americas.....7

- At Wal-Mart. Less is more
- In short: U.S. Macerich raises US$ 2.3 billion... Amancio Ortega invests US$ 370 million in Miami Beach... Textile tumbles in Brazil...

Africa, Middle East.....8

- Department stores flock to the Emirates
- UAE. Apple opens 2 stores on the same day

Asia.....8, 9

- Fast-Foods. A step-back for Yum Brands in China
- Expert’s viewpoint on the spinoff of Yum-China
- Adidas flagship, the concept of the month
- In short: Uniqlo’s sales jumped by 46% abroad... In India, H&M enters 1st tier cities...China wants to rejuvenate... Debenhams is eyeing Vietnam and Australia...

Study.....10

- European purchasing power rising in 2015

The expert’s eye.....11

- How to legally and efficiently protect an international retail brand?

People.....12

- Wal-Mart appoints new C.F.O... Alibaba builds a European team... A new C.E.O at Neinver... Nathalie Mesny is back at Carrefour...